3. That the record of the Court seems to have been mutilated in a manner wholly unauthorized by law, by the procureur of Mrs. Muse's name from the docket, as Mr. Bonds thinks, by Mr. Muse himself.

4. That Mr. Muse does not even dare to deny that the Attachment was issued, levied and duly returned to court; which is much more than I knew when I addressed my letter to Col. Lewis; and of course much more than I suggested in that same letter.

H. N. PREWETT.

July 15, 1853.

We are authorized to announce GEN. WM. CLARK, as a candidate for re-election for State Treasurer.

We are authorized to announce E. P. ROBERTS as a candidate for Sheriff, at the next election.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Geo. B. WILKINSON, as a candidate for re-election to the office of Probate Judge, at the next election.

We are authorized to announce Geo. W. DOUGHERTY, as a candidate for Probate Judge, at the next election.

We are authorized to announce Wm. K. STEARNS, as a candidate for Probate Clerk, at the next election.

Election Tickets.

We shall commence in a few days to print tickets for the approaching election. Candidates who wish their names on the tickets worked at this office, must order them immediately. Those who are not in town, and cannot come, can get them done through their merchants or friends.

Important.

We ask as a personal favor, that our friends in the country will pay any little account they may owe this office on the receipt of this. It is impossible to collect money in town during the epidemic, and we find it very difficult to get the money necessary to pay our current expenses. We are assured that our subscribers that are in arrears, will cheerfully respond to this call.

AND STILL THEY FALL.—It again becomes our melancholy duty to record the death of two of our most valued citizens, Capt. P. C. Wallis, and Mr. James H. Bell, Clerk of the Probate Court.

We would call the attention of our readers to the card of Dr. H. Laurence in another column. Dr. H. informs us that he is at Cooper's Well, and will be here so soon as the health of the city will permit.

Relief for Yazoo City.

Since our last publication, the following contributions have been received by the Mayor for the relief of the city:

Capt. J. J. Hughes, $50; Geo. S. Yerger, $50; John A. Cason, $20; T. J. Sayre, $20; D. D. Gibbs, $20, and $25 from a citizen of the county.

The Epidemic.

We are still unable to state positively that there is any abatement in the epidemic, yet it is true there are fewer new cases occurring, owing solely to the want of subjects, as there are not over twenty-five or thirty citizens in town liable to take the disease. The heavy frost which we had on Tuesday morning last, appears to have had but little effect in checking the progress of the pestilence, as there have several new cases occurred since, and some few have taken a relapse.

We understand that several of our citizens intend to return with their families to the city in a day or two; we would warn them against so rash an act, but advise them to remain in exile until the epidemic has entirely disappeared and the atmosphere becomes perfectly pure.

The Sexton's report shows a falling off of one half in the number of deaths from those of last week.

Our Cause—Our Ticket—The Prospects.

The Whig cause is a good one. There never was a better. The principles, which the term implies, are as noble as any that ever drew the support of intelligent and patriotic citizens. The brightest pages of the history of this country are irradiated with light drawn from the unequalled achievements, the splendid achievements, the mighty mental and military victories of Whig orators, Whig patriots, Whig statesmen, Whig diplomatists, Whig generals and Whig soldiers. Deny it who can. None can sustain the denial by turning to the record—by referring to impartial and indisputable history. HARRISON, TAYLOR and SCOTT, will have a historic page written opposite their names which will go down to posterity until "the last syllable of recorded time" has been pronounced, such as no opposition can show, and CLAY and WEBSTER have carved their own names, have stamped their own deeds, so ineffaceably upon the records of the country, that no history of that country can be written which does not give them a prominent and glorious niche among the foremost of the mightiest and best the Republic has ever produced. So much, briefly, for the cause, and its antecedents. Now for the Ticket, which the Whigs of Mississippi have presented to them for their suffrages. We have heretofore alluded to it some length, and do not now intend to be very prosy in our allusions. Neither is it necessary, as the gentlemen who compose the ticket are well and favorably known to the voters of the State.

The Whig Ticket is in every way worthy the whole cause, of which its members are put forward as standard bearers and exponents. We do not know of a weak point in it. Like a well constructed edifice it contains all the elements of inherent, self-supporting strength. The foundations are solid and enduring; the walls firm and strong; the filling up made of unexceptionable material; and the roof capable of resisting any storms that may rage from without. Let us take a mere glance at the construction of the ticket. Look at our candidate for Governor, Hon. F. M. RODGERS, a citizen of marked worth, ability and acquirements, who will make one of the most efficient Governors the State ever possessed. For some years Judge Rogers has retired from active political strife, yet he is known and prized by our citizens as a gentleman of decided talents, unquestionable probity and large popularity. In his section he will prove a tower of strength to the Whig and Union party. There is Col. A. K. McCLELLAN, the able and popular candidate for Congress in this District, who rendered such good service to his country in the Mexican war, and by his talents immense benefit to the State. Those who doubt his strength with the masses will not question his worth as a patriot and an individual, or his high capacity as a legislator. The popularity part of the matter will be settled on the first Monday and Tuesday in November. Then there is the gallant and patriotic BRADFORD, candidate for Congress from the State at large, high minded and talented, every way worthy of the station to which he aspires. A generous people will reward his many glorious military and political achievements. And there is Jas. A. HORNE, candidate for Secretary of State, and DAN RUSSELL, candidate for Auditor, those who have any hopes of beating them, must possess tremendous organs of credulity, for we cannot call it well balanced, intelligent enthusiasm.

Take them all in all—candidates for the Legislature J. R. BURRUS and S. L. JAMES, included—look at them as they are—criticize their personal and political characters as you may, weigh well their worth, competency and usefulness, estimate their claims upon their fellow-citizens, view them as men and officers, and it can be truthfully said that a nobler set of men never appeared before the people as candidates for public station.

Fellow-Whigs! the ticket of your party is before you! Will you support it as energetically and enthusiastically as becomes yourselves and your candidates? This is the question—and the only question. If you do so, victory is certain, and Mississippi will be redeemed from the possession and control of our opponents.

Then, let us go to work, win the triumph—for it is within our reach—and place our beloved State, by the adoption of wise and wholesome laws, upon the high road to permanent prosperity. Then, Whigs! to the fight, and do not cease striking until the battle is fought, and the victory won!

We are requested by the Hon. M. L. Fitch to state, that he is no longer a candidate for Judge of the Fifth Judicial District.

Mr. R. R. in some of his Eastern speeches, said that before he left Washington city, Gov. Foote had become so unpopular in the Senate that a majority of the members heartily wished his defeat. Gen. Cass was especially mentioned as being opposed to him. Mr. R. wrote to Gen. Cass, stating the facts to him, and has received a most explicit denial of the charge in the promises—and he regards himself, he says, there is no member of the Democratic party that he holds in more regard politically or personally than that pure patriot Henry S. Foote.

Whigs! Union Men! Rally!

In one week more you will be called upon to exercise the privilege of freemen, the right of suffrage, and the selection of your rulers. It is a glorious privilege, and in thankfulness of heart it should be enjoyed. While the people of other nations groan under galling servitude; while the serfs of crowned and coroneted heads have no voice in the selection of their rulers, here in this land of universal freedom every man has an equal interest and equal rights in the result of our elections. How important then does the duty become, that all should appreciate the value of those rights and jealously guard the sanctity of those interests. To possess the proud privilege of selecting your own rulers and of exercising the republican franchise at the ballot box, without zealously and religiously attending to them, is a crime against your self-interest and your country. It is as much the duty of freeman to vote, as it is to obey the laws. If citizens are indifferent or lukewarm to this duty, the consequences will be pernicious. Bad officers, crude legislation, extravagant expenditures and a vitiated code of political morality must follow with inevitable certainty. The security of a nation does not alone consist in knowing its rights—they must be exercised, or they will be impaired, if not entirely destroyed. The elective franchise is the most important right we possess, and it is one which is the least regarded, the most frequently neglected, and the most disgracefully abused.

Fellow-Whigs! Union men! you boast yourselves a party based on principles. If you would be true to those principles, you must unflinchingly support those men who entertain those principles. The mere lust of office—the mere elevation of men to places of profit, are incentives unworthy a freeman; but to vote a ticket as an endorsement of principles, and with a desire to promulgate them, is a proud privilege and important duty. We should never permit the result of an election as it merely affects the candidates, to control our voice, action or judgment. We should take a more elevated view, and regard each vote cast as a pledge to the maintenance of principles. Looking at our duty in this view, we should never stop to consider whether our candidates can be elected—we should never be induced to compromise our principles to secure office for friends, while we degrade and betray our party and our position; but our aim should be to poll every vote possible, and let the result stand recorded as the extent and power of the political truths we have organized to advance.

Rally then, Whigs! Union men! on the first Monday and Tuesday in November, and give a strong and united support to the gallant champions of your principles. Do not falter in your duty; do not degrade the privileges you enjoy by trifling away your votes, and thus compromising the integrity of your party. To have the offices in the gift of the people well filled this fall, it is only necessary to vote for the Ticket presented by the Conservative Whig party.

Col. Singleton and McClung.

We regret to learn that a difficulty occurred between these two gentlemen at Carthage, Leake county, on the 13th inst. But the following statement of the facts connected with the difficulty, fully exonerates Col. McClung from all blame in the matter. We publish the following letter to Col. McClung, in order that the public mind may be disabused by any unfair or partial statement that may be circulated for political effect, to the prejudice of Col. McClung.

It should be borne in mind, that Colonel McClung is remarkable for the high courtesy and polished bearing with which he always treats his opponents, and he has heretofore canvassed the State with Gov. Whitfield, Col. Featherston, Judge Chalmers and others, in times of high political excitement, and has never had a difficulty with either of them, or with any man upon the stump, except Col. Singleton. They have met since and spoke as usual, without any reference to the difficulty.

Here is the letter:

CARTHAGE, Oct. 14, 1853.

Dear Sir—Having been present at the discussion between yourself and Mr. Singleton on yesterday, we have no hesitation in stating, as you request, the particulars attending the collision between you.

You were discussing the Pacific Railroad and commenting upon the change you alleged had taken place in Mr. Singleton's opinion, and you stated that in the speech which he had just made, he stated that he was still opposed to the road as a work of internal improvement, but as a military road, the thing must be regarded in a different point of view. You then alleged that he said its constitutionally depended upon its necessity, and that he said he did not know whether it was necessary or not for the national defence. We understood him as you did, in this matter. When you thus laid down his position, he answered abruptly, without rising, "I said no such thing." He was then sitting upon a seat, close to the steps of the stand. You then answered, "You did say precisely that"—repeating the proposition. He answered, again, "I did not, sir." You said again, "You said precisely that thing, I'll swear." He immediately arose from his seat and said, "You can't intimidate me, sir," when you kicked him in the side or breast. He attempted to clinch, or grapple with you, when there was an immediate rush to the stand by a great many persons, and you were immediately separated. In a few minutes things came to order, and you went on with your speech. Mr. Singleton replied to you, when your time was up, and you rejoined: neither of you making any reference in any manner to the difficulty.

We state the facts, just as they are fresh in our memory, without any comments or opinions.

ISAAC JORDAN,
M. D. WARREN,
P. SHARKEY,
H. G. MARTIN,
H. H. HOWARD,
J. H. BEEMAN.

Frost.—We had a very heavy frost on Tuesday morning last. The weather is uncomfortably cold.

Whigs! Union Men!

Are you all ready—or are you getting ready? One week more, and the battle has to be fought. The skies are bright. Our information is all cheering. Rogers and McClung, and Burrus and James leads, most assuredly. But remember, that a victory may be lost by supineness, or bad management, after it may be fairly and truly considered as won. See you, that you let not the victory slip out of your hands—where now you have it completely and entirely—by any remissness or mismanagement on your parts.

The last steamer brings the news that Russia has declared war against Turkey. Cotton has already fallen two cents with a downward tendency. The sympathies of the civilized world are for Turkey in this contest, and in all probability every power in Europe will be involved before the war ceases; as it is plainly one of aggression, and an unholy effort after universal dominion on the part of Russia.

RELEASE OF KOZSTA.—The National Intelligence confirms the report of Kozsta's release. The consent of Austria is based on the fact of the crown jewels of Hungary being already recovered. It was supposed that Kozsta was privy to the disposition made of those articles, and could give information leading to their recovery; hence his arrest. About the last of August, the missing regalia were discovered, and no further necessity exists for the confinement of Kozsta.

To the Freemen of the State of Mississippi.

Fellow Citizens:—For some months it has doubtless been known to the most of you, that I was an independent candidate for the office of Treasurer of your State. My past history, as an incumbent of the office which I now hold, and to which I seek to be re-elected is before you. For nearly seven years I have been the Treasurer of your State, receiving and disbursing your monies in a manner, so far as I know, acceptable to all parties. You are the proper judges of my competency to discharge the difficult duties of the office. I had hoped no opposition would have been raised to my re-election, but the Democratic Committee in the discharge of its duty, has placed a nominee in the field as my opponent. I did not come out to oppose him, or any other person; but he is brought forward as my opponent. If our election depends upon our several capacity to perform the duties of the office, I submit my past official conduct as evidence of my capacity. If party politics be the test of our merit, then we are on a par, for we are or were both Union Democrats in 1851, and were both engaged in the defence of that cause.

Something has been said and written about a letter addressed by me to a member of the Democratic Nominating Committee, stating that I desired to terminate my official career by the suffrages of the united democracy.

I did present my name to the Committee, and present it independently to the people of the State. This I did, not until full advice was had in the premises. I am, however, fellow-citizens, in the field as a candidate for re-election to my present office, and I ask your suffrages, not as my due, but as the spontaneous gift of a free and generous people. Whatever of merit I may possess is known to you, and I can only offer my assurances that, if elected, my future discharge of duty shall not be less efficient than the past.

I would present myself before you in person, but the duties of my office and its responsibilities even at this critical period, in the health of our city, will not permit me to leave the office. Should you elect me, fellow-citizens, I can only promise, as I have heretofore done, to do my utmost to subserve your highest interest, and should I be defeated, I shall retain a grateful recollection of past favors.

With many thanks for former kindness, I remain, fellow citizens, your obedient servant,
W. CLARK.

Poisoning.—Thousands of parents who use Vermifuge composed of Castor Oil, Calomel, &c., are not aware that, while they appear to benefit the patient, they are actually laying the foundations for a series of diseases, such as salivation, loss of sight, weakness of limbs, &c.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Hobbessack's Medicines, to which we ask the attention of all directly interested in their own as well as their children's health. In Liver Complaints and all disorders arising from those of a bilious type, should make use of the only genuine medicine, Hobbessack's Liver Pills.

"Be not deceived," but ask for Hobbessack's Worm Syrup and Liver Pills, and observe that each has the signature of the Proprietor, J. N. HOBESSACK, as none else are genuine.
